

SIGN to Give Oklahoma Voters Choice

HALF of Oklahoma legislative races had ONE candidate in November 2006. Oklahoma has the most restrictive laws to put a party on the ballot, requiring over 73,000 signatures that year.

I support reforming Oklahoma's restrictive ballot access laws by returning the number of signatures to form a political party back to 5,000, the number required from 1924 until 1974.
